

Don Juan DeMarco: The World's Greatest Lover

1. I sense out the beauty within each woman, it overwhelms everything else, and then they cannot hide their desire and they release that beauty to me.
2. You are a great lover just like myself, although you have lost your way and your accent.
3. My father taught me sword on my impending adulthood.
4. I considered the meaning of truth and being and God.
5. There are only four questions in life: What is sacred, of what is the spirited made, what is worth living for and what is worth dying for. The answer to each is the same: only love.
6. Learn to dance - it does wonders c'mon.
7. It sings it really does.
8. When having a male nurse to teach him about your country he may move there. For example where is Rocco? He moved to Madrid, Spain.
9. Can you not tell when a women is completely insane.
10. I was sold into slavery, maybe a good thing I shall get to this later....
11. I have had at a many of time to develop a theory of why I was there.
12. Be prepared to die for your love in knowing you have defiled the memory of your love.
13. I was and still am prepared to lose my life for my wife.
14. How could I sleep with another woman? When I had given myself body and soul to her, how could I forsake the purity of love I had with my flower.... Actually I was surprised at how easily the past could over come.
15. I man could only love one woman? I was badly mistaken, however I have learned to do it in the eyes of my wife.
16. All good things must come to a end.
17. I have learned to love in a thousand ways, each one a lesson in the soul of a woman.
18. A teaching from my mother: The truth is inside you. I cannot help you find that.
19. What is it with old age? Why do people want to suck love bone dry? Why don't they want to call it love?
20. My ship was stuck in a typhoon. I alone survived.
21. Her beauty was not made by shape, hers shined from within.

22. There are those that believe that a single soul born in heaven can be split into twin spirits and shot like falling stars to earth. How else do you explain love at first sight?
23. I am convinced that there is no love like mine and my wife's, under the stars we believe that we will live and never die.
24. I love you too much but I can not love you less.
25. There is always a very good time to lie if one is faced with extreme danger.
26. Between my wife and my past life there have been 1502. This is a number much greater than my wife imagined. To hide her humiliation my wife put on the mask until she found forgiveness in me which has led me to my unborn twins.
27. I promise and I shall die in the arms of the woman I love.
28. I am Don Juan DeMarco and I am the world's greatest lover and I am married to lovely Ava Marie DeMarco. I have seen my unborn children in her eyes and I hope you can see it in your wife's eyes

So go out and buy my book to find out more handy tips.